

ROSE D'OR 2014 WINNERS ANNOUNCED

17 SEP 2014

Link to video

Outstanding achievement for the best and most creative TV, online and radio formats worldwide has been recognized at the 53rd Rose d'Or ceremony in Berlin.

Golden Rose Awards were presented in nine categories following a record-breaking number of entries.

The ceremony, which was attended by around 150 industry luminaries and hosted by Croatian TV entertainer and journalist Aleksandar Kostadinov, saw prizes presented to:

TELEVISION

Comedy

Little Mom – Dori Media Group (Israel)

Sitcom

Toast of London – Channel 4/Objective Productions (United Kingdom)

Game Show

Pointless (UK) – Endemol Company for BBC1

Arts

Peter & The Wolf/Pierre et le Loup – Camera Lucida Productions (France)

Reality and Factual Entertainment

Gogglebox – Channel 4 (United Kingdom)

Entertainment

Circus Halli Galli – ProSiebensat1 TV Deutschland GmbH (Germany)

RADIO

Comedy

Bridget Christie Minds The Gap – BBC (United Kingdom)

Entertainment

A Night of Emotions – YLE (Finland)

Reality & Factual Entertainment

The Futurologists – Swedish Radio (Sweden)

The nominations were announced in June 2014, with the jury selecting a shortlist for the three best programmes in each of the nine categories in television and radio competing for a Golden Rose.

The Heads of Jury selected the best in each category earlier in the week.

More information on the winners, nominees and photos of the event are available at: www.rosedor.com

<http://www3.ebu.ch/cms/render/live/en/sites/ebu/contents/news/2014/09/rose-dor-2014-winners-announced.html>